Time passed and Princess Sally turned 18 years old. She was very kind and gentle and all the animals in the palace liked Sally. Especially, the white pigeon and the little deer, they were Princess Sally's closest friends.

On a day with a clear blue sky without a single cloud, Prince Daniel from the neighboring country of Germany came to the palace in Italy for trade negotiations. Princess Sally was playing happily with the squirrels on the vast green pasture when she bumped into tall and handsome Prince Daniel. Both of them fell in love at first sight and sang love songs together.

After the giants heard Princess Sally's story, the five giants decided to protect the beautiful princess. The five giants and Princess Sally lived happily by singing and eating delicious food everyday.

The queen, who thought that Princess Sally was dead, asked the fairy again "who is the most beautiful in this whole world?," but the fairy kept answering that Princess Sally was the most beautiful in this world. The queen planned a trick to kill Princess Sally with her own hands after she found out that the princess was still alive. The queen disguised herself as an old man and handed a poisoned peach to Princess Sally while the giants went out to the ocean to work.

 (Listen Carefully : _____

One rainy day, a prince arrived at the shack. He was Prince Daniel from Germany, who had been looking for her even after returning to Germany. Prince Daniel kissed Princess Sally while in deep sorrow and with tears thinking that she was already dead. Then, Princess Sally woke up from her long sleep.
